

Most Markets Showed Positive Appreciation For The Past 5 Years

12/13/08

Courtesy: Buffalo Homefinder

Author: Kenneth Harney

The latest federal statistics on housing prices in hundreds of local markets reveal patterns that haven't been making the nightly news: While on a national basis the news is the end of the boom, the overwhelming majority of local markets continue to show net cumulative value growth over the past 60 months.

The Buffalo Niagara region ranks 82nd out of 292 metropolitan areas with a five year appreciation of 24.43 percent.